THE LION OF THE DAY.
THE OLD VEGETABLE OR GERMAN PILLS.
L-POSTIVE, OR NO PAY.

THEY are highly recommended by Dr. Valentine, of the city of New York. A medicine to prevent the attacks of disease, to keep the system in healthy action, and to eradicate as soon as possible every disease as soon as it appears, has been the great study of medical men for many years without success. The subscriber, however, not expecting his Pills to cure all the ills which flesh is heir to, confidently recommends them as certain and efficacious in the following: Headache, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Cholera, bilious, remittent, and intermittent fevers, diseases of the Liver, and Spleen, Female Obstructions, Rheumatism, Foul Stomach, Distension of the Head, Loss of Appetite, Weakness, and Trembling of the Limbs, Nausea, or sickness at the stomach, Flushings of the Face, Summer Complaints, Measles, Scarlet Rash, and will be found infallible in complaints of the Digestive Organs, and particularly those arising from impurity of the blood. As a preventive against Fevers, no persons should go to a warm climate without a box of these Pills; they are entirely of vegetable ingredients, and can be taken safely without fear. Price, 37 1/2 cents a box.

For sale at A. GEYER'S Drug Store, 101 Hanover street, corner of Salem street, BOSTON; General Agent for the N. E. States, and may be had at most of the Drug Stores in the U. S. and in the Canadas. The genuine Pills have the written signature of MERRITT GRIFFIN on each box.

For sale in Bangor by A. P. GUILD, Exchange St., and at FOLSOM'S, No. 21 West Market Place. Brewer W. A. Farnsworth.

HUMAN HAIR.
Cleanliness of the Head & Hair.
STRANGE it is that persons who attend strictly to personal cleanliness, baths, &c. should neglect the Head & Hair, the most essential the most exposed and the most beautiful, when properly cared for, of all the gifts of the Creator. Perfectly free may it be kept of dandruff or scurf, with a certainty that the hair cannot fall out, by the use of the Balm of Columbia. Ladies, will you make your toilet without this article? I answer fearlessly. No. If you have once tried and experienced its purifying effects its sweet perfume.

A hundred articles have been put forth on the credit of this the only first the only really valuable article. A mass of testimony from all classes on these facts.

LOOK OUT. Counterfeits are abroad; look always for the name of COMSTOCK & Co. on the splendid wrappers, and never buy it without this name.

[From the Boston Chronicle, Jan. 10.]
We see by an advertisement in another column, that Messrs. Comstock & Co., the Agents for the Balm of Columbia, have deputies to sell this article in Boston and elsewhere. We know a lady of this city, whose hair was so nearly gone, as to expose entirely her phrenological developments, and considering that they betokened a most amiable disposition, was not, in reality, very unfortunate. Nevertheless she mourned the loss of locks that she had worn, and after a year's fruitless resort to mis-called restoratives, purchased some months ago, a bottle or two of Oldridge's Balm, and she has now tresses in rich profusion, glossy and of raven blackness. We are not puffing; none of the commodity has been sent to us, and, indeed, we do not want any, for, though we were obliged to wear a wig a year ago, we have now, through its virtues, hair enough, and of a passable quality of our own.

Daring Fraud.
The Balm of Columbia has been imitated by a notorious counterfeiter. Let it never be purchased or used, unless it have the signature of COMSTOCK & CO. on a splendid wrapper. This is the only external test that will secure the public from deception.

LIVER COMPLAINTS, AND ALL SICKNESS & DISEASES.
DR. LINS

Temperance Life-Bitters, AND CHINESE BLOOD-PILLS.

The Greatest Secret Discovered!!
PURGE purge! purge has been the cry for the last few years. This has been effectually tried, and yet sufferers have multiplied and died; and why? Not because purging was not necessary, but too much has been done without the tonic to follow, and sustain the system. Purge, you must! The sickly humors of the blood must be carried off or the accumulation of them prevented. Prevent, then, the growth of such humors.

Why do the Chinese live to such immense ages, and still retain the powers of youth or middle age? Because they purify the blood. The Chinese Blood-Pills so called because they work upon and cleanse the blood are the standard remedy. These Pills will do it; and the Temperance Bitters, taken as directed, will strengthen the system and prevent the accumulation of the base humors which infest the blood, and which only increase by purges, unless the Bitters are taken after. Buy, then, these Pills and Bitters. Take weekly the Pills and daily the Bitters; and if you are or have been invalids for days, weeks, months, or years, you will find the sickly humors drawn off, and prevented from a return, and the sallow yellow hue of sickness change rapidly to the full blooming glow of health and youthful buoyancy.

There are cases so numerous of these brilliant effects, that time and space forbid an attempt to put them down. Buy and use these medicines, and use no other, and health and strength shall be yours. See wrapper and directions that come with them.

FRAUDULENT COUNTERFEITS will be attempted. Buy no remedy of the kind unless it have my name O. C. LINS, M. D. on the wrapper, and also the notice as follows:
"Entered according to Act of Congress, A. D. 1841, by THOS. CORNELL, in the Clerk's Office of the District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York."

Warranted the only genuine.
Messrs. COMSTOCK & Co., New York, are the sole wholesale Agents for the United States and all neighboring countries.

DOCTOR C. LINS.

TO THE OLD AND YOUNG.
Ho! Ye Red Heads & Grey!
PHENOMENON IN CHEMISTRY.

East India Hair Dye.
Colors the Hair and will not the Skin!!

THIS Dye is in form of a Powder which in plain matter of fact may be applied to the Hair every night; the first night turning the lightest red or grey hair to a dark brown, and by repeating a second or third night, to a bright jet black. Any person may, therefore, with the least possible trouble, keep his hair any dark shade or a perfect black; with a positive assurance that the powder, if applied to the skin, will not color it. There is no trouble in removing it from the hair, as in all powders before made. By an occasional application, a person turning grey will never be known to have a grey hair! Directions complete with the article. There is no coloring in this statement, as one can easily test.

These facts are warranted by the gentleman who manufactures it, who is the celebrated chemist, Dr. Comstock, author of Comstock's Chemistry, Philosophy, and many other works well known and widely celebrated by the public.

This Dye is sold by COMSTOCK & Co., 71 Maiden Lane, New York.

DR. SEARS' Universal Sanguiferian, OR, BLOOD-ROOT PILLS.

THESE truly Vegetable Pills are eminently useful in all cases where Phlegm is required. They operate more effectually upon the LIVER and MILKARY DUCTS than any ever before offered to the public. They consequently set the bile, which is the natural Phlegm of the system, at liberty, thus removing costiveness, curing Dyspepsia, Liver complaint, Indigestion, Dropsy, and all other diseases which depend on an impure state of the BLOOD. In point of Economy as well as efficacy, these Pills are without a rival as the price for a box of thirty Pills is only twenty five cents. They are warranted to be composed of the very best materials. For Certificates of Cures and further particulars, see bill of directions, which accompanies each Box.

All persons who sell the genuine article will be furnished with a Certificate of Agency signed by the Proprietor, in his own hand writing. All orders promptly attended to by BLASDEN & THURSTON, East Boston.

STATE OF MAINE.
PENOBSCOT, ss. To the several Sheriffs of our Counties of Penobscot, York, Cumberland, Lincoln, Kennebec, Oxford, Somerset, Hancock, Washington, Waldo, Piscataquis, Franklin and Aroostook, or either of their deputies, GREETING.

WE COMMAND you to attach the (L. S.) Goods or estate of Philander Wheeler, of New Orleans, in the State of Louisiana, Merchant, to the value of two hundred dollars, and summon the said Wheeler, (if he may be found in your precinct) to appear before our Justices of our District Court for the Eastern District, next to be holden at Bangor, within and for the County of Penobscot on the first Tuesday of October next, then and there, in our said Court to answer unto David Nossman of Bangor, in the County of Penobscot and State of Maine, Merchant, in a plea of the case for that said Wheeler, at said Bangor, on the day of the purchase of this writ, being indebted to the Plaintiff in the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars; according to the account annexed in consideration thereof then said and there promised the plaintiff to pay him the same sum on demand. And the Plaintiff avers that he demanded the contents of said account of the Defendant on the twenty-first day of January, in the year of our Lord eighteen hundred and forty, whereby interest has accrued since said time. Also, for that the Defendant, at said Bangor, on the day of the purchase of this writ, being indebted to the Plaintiff in the sum of one hundred and fifty dollars, for so much money before that time had and received by the Defendant to the Plaintiff's use, in consideration thereof, then and there promised the Plaintiff to pay him that sum on demand. Yet, though often requested, said Defendant has not paid said sum, but neglects and refuses so to do. To the damage of the said Plaintiff (as he says) the sum of two hundred dollars, which shall then and there be made to appear, with other due damages. And have you there this writ, with your doings therein.

Witness, FREDERICK H. ALLEN, Esquire, at Bangor, the twenty-second day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-one.

I. S. WHITMAN, Clerk.

PENOBSCOT, ss. District Court, Eastern District, January Term—A. D. 1842.

And now, the Court order that the said Philander Wheeler be notified of the pendency of said suit by publishing an attested copy of the writ in said action, and of this order of Court thereon, three weeks successively in the Bangor Courier, a newspaper printed in Bangor, in the County of Penobscot, the last publication to be thirty days at least before the next term of said Court to be holden at Bangor, aforesaid, in and for the County aforesaid, on the fourth Tuesday of May next, that he may then and there appear, if he sees meet, and answer to said suit.

Attest: WM. T. HILLIARD, Clerk.

A true copy of the writ, officer's return, and order of Court thereon.

Attest: WM. T. HILLIARD, Clerk.

Jno. E. GODFREY, Atty. for Plaintiff.

THE BOSTON ALMANAC FOR 1842.
It will be published about the 1st of December.

PURCHASERS are requested to send in their orders, as early as possible to Messrs. Thomas Groom & Co., 62 State Street, and they will meet with all due attention.

The Business Directory, of the various Business and Professions in Boston, so happily begun in last year's Almanac, will be continued in this, with all the improvements that our experience may have afforded. The Almanac for 1842 will be of the same size as that of 1841, and bound in the same beautiful style.

If there should be any who have not seen this publication, the Proprietor would beg leave to say, that it is a neat little volume of 120 pages, well printed, beautifully bound in cloth, lettered in gold, and contains as much matter as an ordinary 8vo volume, and is sold for the very low price of 25c per copy. The Calendar pages are very complete, containing besides the usual matter, a complete record of the Weather in Boston during the past year. Also, each Calendar page is accompanied with a memorandum page, on which the accounts of a family, or other domestic matters may be registered. The paper, being of a strong and firm texture is easily written upon.

TUESDAY, APRIL 5, 1842.

The Washington Globe contains two columns of personal abuse and invective, against the Secretary of State, by C. H. Upton. The pretence is that Mr. Webster was indebted to Mr. Samuel Upton, and that his hopeful son demanded payment, when Mr. Webster stated that so far from being a debtor to Mr. Upton, he was in fact his creditor. Upon this Mr. Webster threatened with newspaper abuse, and the Globe is made the vehicle of a coarse and dirty trade, which ought to sink its author to the low kennel appropriately fitting his real character and merits. In this vicinity this Upton is known, and his story comes to a poor market. His assumption is so preposterous that it excites universal ridicule, and the abuse with which he accompanies it, and the medium of communicating it sufficiently reveal the real motive of its publication, and awaken the deep disgust and loathing of every honorable mind. Such mean and despicable attacks can do no harm to the intended victim. The public taste and public morals suffer much, however, from the abuse of the press in giving currency to such food for depraved appetites. It is a reproach to the press that it should ever lend itself to bad men, who prefer the pay for dirty and despicable work to the earnings of honest industry.

Mr. Webster has committed one fault and a grievous one. He allowed the business relations of a shrewd and artful but unsound man to ripen into personal friendship, and when once formed, although many reasons conspired to urge its dissolution Daniel Webster like, in never quitting or forgetting a friend, he suffered it to continue.

From Texas.

Extract of a letter received in this city dated Houston, March 16, 1842. "There is quite an excitement here at this time, even greater than at Bangor during the Aroostook War, though the Texans appear very different from the Americans; they come in from the country on a shabby American horse, or a Mustang, that has just ventured into the prairie from the timber, where these animals pass the winter months, poor, and nearly wild. The rider having on a pair of deer skin pants, and, perhaps, a green or white blanket frock, a cap, and a first rate rifle, vengeance marked strongly in his countenance. The first and wicked question is, 'Have you heard any news from those damned Mexicans?' They appear to be the most determined and desperate set of beings that I ever beheld. Most of these are hunters, and first rate marksmen, and feel themselves equal to five Mexicans at least.

Gen. Houston has rather discouraged them from starting so hastily, but the citizens of Houston had a meeting yesterday, and every expression was, 'go ahead.' They say our republic is invaded, and now is the time to make them acknowledge our independence, let us march into the City of Mexico, this was advocated by their ministers as well as their General.

Mr. Van Ness is now here who was taken in the Santa Fe Expedition. He says that 10,000 Mexicans left the city of Mexico, while he was there, as he understood, to be armed near the line, and subjugate Texas. It is thought here that an army of nine or ten thousand men can be raised in the republic, and that half as many more will volunteer from the Southern States. If this calculation is correct, or nearly so, I think they will be able to bring Mexico to terms, and I am fully satisfied that they will get together, and well organized, they will never return until they do it.

M. P. N. Esq. was here a few days since on his way to Court at Galveston. He looks very old, and so much altered that I did not know him as he passed. He lives about sixty miles from here.

As I am about to seal my letter, I learn that an express has been received from the Secretary, saying that San Antonio has been plundered and deserted by the Mexicans. And the Secretary thinks it only a trick of war, and that the main army will be on the frontier soon.

An American cultivator of cotton from the State of Georgia now in India where he has cultivated two hundred acres for himself and about fifty acres for the East India Company in a recent letter thus writes: "I am perfectly satisfied that cotton will grow here as well as in any other country, and can be made at much less cost. I can hire five men here for what would be paid in Georgia for a 16 years old boy, and as many day laborers as I want at five cents a day, and find themselves, and rent only costs $2.50-100 an acre. So you see it does not require much means to hire a whole village with all its land and inhabitants. I have made arrangements to go into it largely next year, as I can command any amount of money I want for investments in farming."

The correspondents of the Wiscasset Republican having got over their fright about the removal of the U. S. Court from their ancient and beautiful town, appear to feel better. They were awfully alarmed about the removal of the old "land mark." We are glad to see them get a better natured upon the subject, for they will need the philosophy of laughter by and by, when the courts are removed hither.

A couple of sheds adjoining one of the thirty stone pillars Philadelphia, were burned on Monday, producing such an alarm in the school children that they threw themselves down stairs, and out of the windows, to save themselves, and a number of them were killed. A lady who lived near the spot, and whose life was despaired of.

We have received a communication complaining bitterly that Fifth-street is not put in good order. It is stated that not one dollar has ever been expended on that street, that it can be made for fifty dollars, that the residents on the street are anxious to plant trees and beautify the same, but cannot do so until it is made; and finally that the city authorities are implored to cause the street to be made and a good side walk laid.

The Detroit Free Press states that fourteen prisoners had escaped from the State prison at Jackson, Mich. on Tuesday last. Eleven were recaptured about 10 miles from the place. They resisted stoutly, and wounded several citizens. One was so desperate that he declared he would not be taken alive, and rushed upon the foremost of the pursuers with a large club, and was shot down dead.

The Mormons have found a new book called the Book of Abraham. It purports to have been written by that patriarch, and is said to have been found in the Catacombs of Egypt by an English traveller who brought it away with eleven mummies. J. A. Smith is engaged in translating this book.

There is a rumor upon the Kennebec that Gov. F. Field will probably have to convene the Legislature of the State during the summer to act upon propositions connected with the Boundary, and the mission of Lord Ashberton who is hourly expected to arrive in this country.

The Ladies' Companion for April has been received and is an attractive number. It contains a beautiful engraving of the village of Sing Sing, N. Y. a plate of fashions and two pages music. The letter press of the number is excellent. The number may be purchased at the Bookstores.

We learn that a brilliant temperance lecture was delivered by Thomas Bartlett Jr. Esq. before the Washingtonian Society at their hall last evening. Our Washingtonian friends should let the public know when they intend having a good lecture.

James Adams, indicted for the murder of his wife, died in New York city prison on Thursday night, after a short illness, of typhus fever.

The celebrated Condy Raguet was a Swedeborgian, and died full in the faith.

Col. Solomon Hieker, late M. C. was on Thursday elected Mayor of Baltimore, in place of Mr. Brady, resigned.

Mr. Brockway's Concert advertised for Thursday evening is postponed to Monday evening next.

"A friend to the Protective System," will appear to-morrow.

BUTTS' MERCHANT'S MAGAZINE, April Vol. III, No. IV, $5.00 a year.

The April number of the Magazine is replete with articles of permanent interest and value, to the merchant, the man of business, the political economist and the statesman, as well as to every man who desires solid and practical knowledge in a good form. It contains articles on the Consular System of the United States, the Oregon Territory, British Import Duties, the British Corn Laws, Commerce and Resources of Michigan, Wrecks, Wreckers, and Wreckers, on Florida Reef. Besides a great variety of important matter under the following heads: Mercantile Law Department, Statistics of the United States, embracing their mines, fisheries, commerce, agriculture, etc. Statistics, Mercantile Miscellanies, Naval Intelligence and Book Trade.

It fully sustains the high character of preceding numbers, and merits the approbation of its wide circle of constantly increasing friends. Smith & Fennor are the Agents for the Magazine in this city.

CONGRESS.

Washington, April 1.

In the Senate, Mr. Clay resigned his seat after which that body adjourned.

On presenting the credentials of his successor Mr. Clay addressed the Senate in an eloquent parting speech, which will be read with great pleasure. Mr. Crittenden was then duly qualified and took his seat.

In the House, Mr. Saltonstall, from the Committee on Manufactures, reported a bill to regulate the Tariff, which was read twice and sent to Committee of the Whole.

The Loan Bill then came up and the question was taken on the amendments. That moved by Mr. Fillmore, authorizing the Secretary to sell the Treasury for what it would bring, was rejected 97 to 94. All the other amendments made in Committee of the Whole were agreed to and the bill was ordered engrossed for a third reading 103 to 87. A motion to reconsider was afterward passed 101 to 70. Mr. Fillmore's amendment was now adopted 90 to 87, and the bill was ordered to a third reading 106 to 81.

A message was received from the President transmitting extracts of letters from Mr. Reily, Texan Consul, and suggesting, on behalf of his Government, such modifications of existing U. S. laws as will impart greater facility to the trade between the two countries, and the other expressing a desire for some regulation to improve communication by post between Texas and the U. States.

The House then adj.

The Savannah Republican has a letter from the command of Major Belknap, which has been traversing the swamps of Florida, and which is now beginning to reap the fruits of its unsuppressed labor. Twenty-seven more warriors have been brought in, and there are 40 or 50 others in the vicinity of late-okega some of whom are expected in soon.

Bancroft computes that 100,000 Indians are all that remains East of the Mississippi the numerous tribes who formerly possessed that immense range of country. Ardent spirits, the small pox, famine, and the rifle, have destroyed the rest of them.

Later from Texas. The Incursion ended and Mexico invaded.

By the steamer Neptune, Galveston dates to the 23d of March. Two days later than we have received, have reached New Orleans.

The Mexican movement, instead of being an invasion by an army of fourteen thousand, as has been stated, was a mere predatory incursion, carried on for the purpose of plunder and annoyance. The number of Mexican troops that crossed the Rio Grande is believed not to have exceeded twelve hundred. After plundering San Antonio, they began their retreat. Gen. Burleson, with about 1,000 Texian troops, was in full pursuit at the latest dates, with every prospect of overtaking the enemy. It is now his intention to carry the war into Mexico, to occupy a position across the Rio Grande until driven from it by an overpowering force. To support him in this, another detachment of 1,500 men has been sent forward. It is now said that Goliad was taken by fifty Mexicans. A rumor had reached Austin that it had been retaken by the Texans. The enemy retreating without firing a gun. Spies have been sent out to learn the force of the enemy. They report that the whole Mexican force has recrossed the Rio Grande, and that the Indians were not acting in concert with them, as was at first feared. Col. Burleson was to march for Bear on the 12th.

Goliad had been retaken by the Texans, and the Galvestonians felt so secure that they sent off 250 men to join in the pursuit.

The Texian force in the field was about 3000 men, hourly increasing. Gen. Somerville was in command of the army.

The city authorities at Houston had undertaken to provide for the support of such families as are in need of assistance, and whose heads have gone to fight the battles of their country.

Commodore Moore has entire command of the Gulf of Mexico, and the whole Texian fleet will soon be in active service without cost to government.

Official letters from the President contain invitations for others to join Texas in this invasion. One of them says:

"The recompense tendered to our friends will be the property captured by them upon the most valiant and chivalric principles of honorable warfare and the soil which they conquer. Glory, victory, and imperishable fame! Mexico has invaded our country and her dictator has declared that the Anglo Saxon race shall bow to the rule of a Despot."

The Spirit World.

It is related by an elegant writer, once greatly admired, but we fear only occasionally talked of and seldom read in these days of the "thrilling and exciting literature, that there is a tradition among a certain tribe of our Indians, that one of their number once descended in a vision to the great repository of souls, or as we call it, the spirit world, and that upon his return he gave his friends a distinct account of everything he saw among those regions of the dead. He stated that after having travelled for a long space under a hollow mountain, he arrived at length on the confines of the world of spirits, but could not enter it by reason of a thick forest made up of bushes, brambles, and pointed thorns, so perplexed and interwoven with one another, that it was impossible to find a passage through it. While he was looking about for some track or pathway, that might be worn in any part of it, he saw a huge lion couched under the side of it, who kept his eye upon him in the same posture as when he watches for his prey. The Indian immediately started back, and the lion rose with a spring, and leaped toward him. Being wholly destitute of all other weapons, he stooped down to take up a huge stone in his hand, but to his infinite surprise, grasped nothing, and found the supposed stone to be only the apparition of one. If he was disappointed on this side, he was as much pleased on the other, when he found the lion, which had seized on his left shoulder, had no power to hurt him, and was only the ghost of that ravenous creature which it appeared to be. He no sooner got rid of his import enemy, but he marched up to the wood, and, after having surveyed it for some time, endeavored to press into one part of it that was a little thinner than the rest, when again to his great surprise he found the bushes made no resistance, but that he walked through briars and brambles with the same ease as through the open air, and in short, that the whole wood was nothing else but a wood of shades.

He immediately concluded that this huge thicket of thorns and brakes was designed as a kind of fence or quick-set hedge to the ghosts it enclosed, and that probably their softest and most delicate might be torn by these subtle points and prickles, which were too weak to make any impression in flesh and blood. With this thought he resolved to travel through this intricate wood, when by degrees he felt a gale of perfumes breathing upon him, that grew stronger and sweeter in proportion as he advanced. He had not proceeded much further, when he observed the thorns and briars to end, and give place to a thousand beautiful green trees covered with blossoms of the most scents and colors, that formed a wilderness of sweets, and were a kind of living to those ragged scenes which he had before passed through. He had no sooner got out of the wood, but he was entertained with such a landscape of flowery plains, green meadows, running streams, sunny hills, and shady valleys, as was not to be represented by his own expressions, nor, as he said, by the conceptions of others. This happy region was peopled with innumerable swarms of spirits, who applied themselves to exercises and diversions, according as their fancies led them. Some of them were pitching the figure of a quail, others were tossing the shadow of a ball, others were breaking the apparition of a horse, and multitudes employing themselves upon ingenious handicrafts with the souls of departed utensils. As he travelled through this delightful scene, he was very often tempted to pluck the flowers that rose every where about him in the greatest variety and profusion, having never seen several of them in his own country, but he quickly found, that though they were objects of his sight they were nothable to his touch. He at length came to the side of a great river, and being a good fisherman himself, stood upon the banks of it some time to look upon an angler that had taken a great many shapes of fishes, which by flouncing up and down by him.

The tradition goes on to say, that the Indian had not stood long by the fisherman, when he saw on the opposite bank of the river the shadow of his beloved wife, who had gone before him into the other world, after having borne him several lovely children. Her arms were stretched out toward him, floods of tears ran down her eyes, her looks, her voice, called him over to her, and at the same time seemed to tell him that the river was impassable. Who can describe the passion made up of joy, sorrow, love, desire, astonishment, that rose in the Indian upon the sight of his dear departed? He could express it by nothing but his tears, which ran like a river down his cheeks as he looked upon her. He had not stood in this posture long, when he plunged into the stream that lay before him, and finding it to be nothing but the phantom of a river, stalked on the bottom of it till he was on the other side. At his approach, the loved spirit flew into his arms, while he himself longed to be disencumbered of that body which kept her from his embraces. After many questions and exclamations, she conducted him to a lower, which day by day she had embellished with her own hands from those blooming regions, expressly for his reception. As he stood astonished at the unspeakable beauty of the habitation, she brought two of her children to him who had died some years before, and who resided with her in the same delightful dwelling, imploring him to train up those others which were still with him, in such a manner that they might hereafter all of them meet together in that happy place. Bereaved mourner! treasure this record in thy heart of hearts. To the untortured mind even of this poor Indian was vouchsafed, to a vision of the night, a glimpse of that spirit-land to which we all are tending. There we shall meet the loved and lost.

"The dear departed, gone before
To that unknown and silent shore,
Sure we shall meet us here, ere long,
Some summer morning."

The China Aster.

"I planted it with my own hand," said my little sister, holding up the withered China Aster, plucked up by the roots. "I covered it from the sun, I watered it night and morning, after all, (wiping her eyes with the corner of her frock,) after all, it is dead!"

Alas! how many are the occurrences in life, thought I, which resemble Mary's flower. Too easily believing what we wish, we adopt some pretty trifle, and laying it as it were in our bosom, love it as a daughter, fancy prints it in gay colors, increasing in beauty we see its little leaves expand, and trace its progress with anxious solicitude from the swelling bud to the full blow, and then, when we are fondly expecting to enjoy it, reality tells us, after all, it is dead!

How often does a beloved son or daughter engross all the cares of their parents, and wind themselves round every fibre of their heart to cherish the idol is every wish on the stretch to indulge it, are all the raptures of art and nature procured, sleepless nights and anxious days are their lot, and do you when they hope to see the end of their labors, struck by the hand of disease, or defaced by the contaminating touch of vice, the agonizing parents find, after all, it is dead!

Mechanics at Harper's Ferry.

A large body of mechanics, lately employed at the United States Armory at Harper's Ferry, lately visited Washington, for the purpose of laying before the Executive authorities their grievances. They paid a visit to the President, by whom they were kindly received and entertained. He expressed to them a hope that the matters in controversy might be arranged to their satisfaction, and advised them to return to their homes, and to leave their business in the hands of a committee to be delegated from their number. They complied with this advice, and on Saturday last left Washington for their homes.

Revolutionary Soldiers.

A glorious race they were the tried,
The true of ancient time,
Our glorious sires, who bled and died
For this our own free clime.

Oh! hallowed be each sacred name,
That fearless to the conflict came,
And bravely on the battle plan
Poured out their blood like drops of rain.

Few are the sculptured gifts of art,
— A Nation's love to tell,
And many a brave and gallant heart
Hath mouldered where it fell.

The spiny maw luxuriant waves
Its long green leaves o'er heroes graves,
And thoughtless swains the harvest reap,
Where our stern fathers ashes sleep.

But after years the tale shall tell,
In words of light revealed,
Who bravely fought who nobly fell,
And many a well earned field.

Outspread beneath the Western sun,
Shall live with ancient Marathon,
And Trenton's fight, and Princeton's name,
Be linked with old Plattsburgh fame.

But the surviving few who stand
A remnant weak and old
Solicit of that glorious band
Whose hearts were hearts of gold.

Oh! honored be each silvery hair,
Each furrow trench by toil and care;
And sacred each old bending form,
That braved Oppression's battle storm.
